

GSCW Selected As One Of Four Sites In Nation For Training Navy's WAVES

Selection of Georgia State College for Women here as one of the four schools in the United States to train groups of WAVES for the Navy has been announced in a message from Congressman Carl Vinson to Dr. Guy Wells.

Wells Announces Appointments

Dr. Guy H. Wells has announced the new additions to the GSCW faculty and those who have resigned. The following appointments to the college staff have been made for the 1942-43 school year to fill vacancies resulting from resignations.

In the home economics department, Mrs. J. T. King, Sr., was named assistant professor and director of cafeteria. A former member of the GSCW faculty, Mrs. King graduated from the college with a B.S. degree and holds an M.A. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University. Mrs. J. Wilson Comer, also a graduate of the college and who has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee, was named an instructor. Also named an instructor was Otis Glisson, B.S. in Education, University of Georgia, who has done graduate work at both the University of Georgia and the University of Tennessee.

William A. Richards, a graduate of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers college and holder of a M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky, was named assistant professor in the secretarial training department. Also named to that department was Virginia Daniel as instructor. Miss Daniel is a graduate of GSCW, and has done graduate work at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Sarah Neblett was appointed instructor in art. She is a graduate of Peabody College and holds an M.A. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Alberta Goff, who received a normal diploma from GSCW, a B.S. degree in Music Education, University of Cincinnati, and an M.A. degree, Peabody College, was named instructor in the music department.

In the health department Carol Pryor, a graduate of GSCW, with a BS degree, was named an instructor.

Mary Brown Starr, who holds an A.B. degree from GSCW, and an A.B. degree in Library Science, Emory University, was named instructor in library science and assistant librarian.

Five new members were named.

In addition to the local college, Smith College, the University of Indiana, and the University of Wisconsin were chosen by the Bureau of Navy Personnel to carry on the WAVE training program.

Around 500 girls will receive training here, which will be designed to enable them to replace Navy men from shore duty to active sea duty. Four months are required to complete the training of the 500 WAVES, after which another group of 500 will be brought to GSCW for the four-months course.

Working in such shifts, the training program will be a year-round proposition, Dr. Wells revealed.

The first group of WAVES will begin their intensive training here as soon as facilities can be put in readiness at the college, Dr. Wells said.

In addition to drilling and other routine activities similar to that of Navy men, the girls here will be thoroughly instructed in secretarial training and other work, it was indicated.

Dr. Wells and personnel of the college have been working with Naval inspectors for the past month to arrange the facilities of the college so as to share part of GSCW for training of the WAVES.

"I feel sure," said Dr. Wells, GSCW will be proud of the selection of the college as one of the four in the nation to have a part in this important phase of war work."

Dr. Wells expects some classrooms to be used in the evenings for the new project. He indicated that it might be necessary for some of the larger dormitory rooms to house more students.

Physical Fitness Program Slated

Physical Fitness Day, a program sponsored by the Recreation Association, will be observed Saturday, October 3. A holiday will be given in collaboration with the nation-wide physical fitness campaign.

Plans are being made for the participation of all GSCW students in the day's program. There will be competitive games among the dormitories. Further information will be posted on the dormitory bulletin boards.

THE GRAFF BALLET, which will appear here, rehearses "Prelude" at its Vermont Studio.

Freshmen, Transfers Arrived Here Monday for Orientation

Chapel On Monday

Mayor W. L. Ritchie and Col. J. H. Jenkins will welcome the students at the formal opening of chapel at 11 o'clock on Monday morning.

Upperclassmen Checked In Yesterday; Classwork Slated To Begin Monday

Several hundred freshmen and transfer students, alert with enthusiasm and anticipation, arrived on the campus Monday to begin their orientation week program, which culminates Sunday evening. The activities were planned by College Government Association, of which Louise Faver is president.

Student Leaders Hold Retreat At Lake Laurel Friday, Saturday, and Sunday

The three point program, adopted by the College Government Association last year, will be continued this year, as planned by the CGA pre-school retreat. The points include:

College Cafeteria Service Announced

Serving Hours

Breakfast—8:00 to 9:15 o'clock.
Lunch—1:30 to 2:30 o'clock.
Dinner—6:00 to 7:00 o'clock.

No special orders will be taken during regular meal hours. The cafeteria is open every morning for drinks, sandwiches, ice cream, crackers, and candy, until 12:30.

The cafeteria doors are locked from 12:30 to 1:30, and from 2:30 to 4:30 every day.

Dinner is served at mid-day on Sunday and supper at night.

Breakfast on Sundays is from 8:15 to 9:30.

RENTAL LIBRARY ANNOUNCES FEES

A fee of 25 cents is charged for permanent membership of students and of 50 cents for faculty and town people.

Rental rates are five cents for the first three days and three cents for each additional day that the book is kept. There is no charge for the day the book is taken nor for Sundays.

Angelar Kitzinger Works With WAAC

Miss Angelar Kitzinger, former head of the GSCW physical education department here, has been appointed physical education director for the division of the WAAC which is stationed at Fort Des Moines, Iowa. Her appointment was one of three issued by President Roosevelt, and will expire in a few weeks. When her work in Iowa is finished, Miss Kitzinger will return to her home in Troy, New York. This winter she will help write a manual based on her experience this summer, which will be used to direct the physical education program of the WAAC.

Faculty Meeting

The first faculty meeting at GSCW was held Monday afternoon with Dr. Guy Wells presiding.

(1) The development of greater appreciation of the arts; (2) Development of better scholarship and; (3) Improvement of manners.

GSCW student leaders gathered at Lake Laurel last Saturday and Sunday for the retreat to make plans for the coming year. Members of Student Council, Upper Court, Honor Council, YWCA Cabinet, Recreation Board, their advisers, and nine freshmen attended the two-day conference.

CGA Sponsors Appreciation Hour

CGA will sponsor the Appreciation Hour this year, it was voted by the group. Mary Fivash and Norma Durden were appointed to head the committee for the appreciation of the arts.

Elizabeth Horne was reappointed chairman of the group to improve scholarship. Plans are being formulated to eliminate obstacles of scholarship, as suggested in the student questionnaire conducted last winter quarter.

This year special emphasis will be given to good manners in the dining hall as suggested by Faye Hancock, selected to head the good manners committee.

Purpose of Retreat

Louise Faver presided at the opening meeting and explained the purpose of the retreat. The theme was preparing at GSCW for a changed and changing world.

Organizational and departmental meetings were held. Juanita Pitts led the group on the handbook study. Discussions were led by Norma Durden on campus problems and program, and Miss Grace Potts on recreation on the campus.

Saturday evening Jane Harrell led the vesper program. Sponsored by the YWCA, the Sunday morning worship program was presented by Edythe Tapnell.

Nine Freshmen Attend

In order to have a more representative college group, freshmen attended the retreat and contributed their viewpoints on the problems discussed. These students were: Elsie Standard

A "student mixer," with the presentation of a skit and singing, was given in Russell auditorium Monday night. Virginia Parker was in charge of the program. Later in the night freshmen were serenaded by the upperclassmen.

Opening Assembly

Official greetings were offered at the opening assembly Tuesday morning. Dr. Guy Wells spoke and Louise Faver presided.

CGA, YWCA, and Recreation Association entertained the new students Tuesday evening at a picnic supper at Nesbitt Woods and at an informal dance in the gymnasium.

Recreation on Back Campus

As a part of the orientation program, Wednesday afternoon, games were played by the new students on the back campus.

New students were honored at a formal banquet, served in Atkinson dining hall Wednesday evening.

Thursday morning freshmen registered for their fall quarter's academic work. A GSCW-GMC

Changes In Courses Made

Several changes have been made in the courses offered at GSCW for the year 1942-43. This fall Art 310 (pottery and modeling); English 344 (contemporary literature), and Home Economics (family clothing problems) have been cancelled. Home Economics 324 (principles of nutrition) has been added.

Winter quarter economics 304 (consumer economics), and Home Economics 220 (food for the family), have been added.

For spring quarter, Economics 435 (public finance and taxation), and Home Economics 324 (principles of nutrition) added, while English 446 (modern drama), and History 421 (United States III) have been cancelled.

DR. JOHNSON TO SPEAK

Dr. Silas Johnson, vice president of Wesleyan College, Macon, will deliver an address in Russell Auditorium Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. This program is sponsored by the YWCA. Every student is urged to attend. After the services there will be guides to the various churches in Milledgeville for those who wish to attend the regular church services.

Two Numbers Set As Concert Association Begins Drive Oct. 12

With membership prices reduced, the annual campaign of the Milledgeville Concert Association will be carried out during the week of October 12th, according to Max Noah, secretary. The executive committee has changed its policy this year in the selection of artists. Mr. Noah said, pointing out that two numbers have already been scheduled.

The Graff Ballet, hailed as "America's Outstanding Dance Attraction," will make its first appearance in Milledgeville on Wednesday, October 21, under the auspices of the Concert Association.

Registration May Be Ticket To Funeral — It May Not Be

By JEWELL WILLIE

Funny when we think of it, but there's not a person here who hasn't registered for something. We've registered for sugar, for gasoline, (as a result, most dates are the sit-at-home-and-chat variety). We've registered for, well, not for draft not voting, but for CLASSES!

We, who are freshmen, had the first taste of that Thursday. We, who are sophomores, juniors, and seniors, got our fill for three months today of, not entirely, will tomorrow.

It's a frightening thing to have to register for anything, to have to reveal minute personal details like color of hair, eyes, and complexion. But registering for classes, although not personal in that way, is positively devastating.

It's terrifying from the instant we read a very official bulletin stating when and where the drastic step must be taken.

Having gleaned all of the necessary information, we set out with one foot headed due north and then on a north by north-east course. Gosh, how we dread it, but, then, all the red tape looks pink.

Finally, we slip into a cavernous room, of course by the back door. (Next year we'll go in from the front door like the white folks do—maybe.) Then a ghastly realization overtakes us—our major professor isn't there. Is it possible that we just don't recognize him? Ah!

That one look familiar! He must be Dr. Workemhard—no, it must be his brother; Dr. Workemhard wears a brown suit. Has Dr. W. been drafted? No, that's Dr. W. right there! Something should be done about teachers who wear brown one year and blue the next.

We boldly approach Dr. W., confident that said kind professor will be delighted to see us. What! Can it be that he doesn't know us? Note: do something about professors who don't recognize students, too. OH, hot! He's got it now! His mental filing system must be deranged. Hope he gets us out of the F folder this quarter. After all, 'most anybody can reasonably expect to graduate in sixteen years!

"Dr. Workemhard," we falter timidly.

"Hm-mm-mm?" he replies. "We'd like—"

"Hm-mm-mm?"

"We'd like to fix our schedule!"

"Hm-mm-mm!"

"Here's one we sort of thought might work—"

"Hm-mm-mm" (snatching it from our willing fingers)—"hmm," he says, changing every other course to one in his department.

"Um-hm-mm-mm," he says handing it back. Something should be done about major professors who expect us to take so many courses in their department.

We start filling out cards which look like theatre tickets, but which turn out to be reservations to our own funeral. But the worst is done and if the deed would only trample down the consequences. "Ah! Dr. W., doth murder sleep—well, that is consequential.

Guess what? Our feet are

Graduates Work, Marry And March

What do you suppose you be doing when you graduate from GSCW? Well, here's a bird's-eye view of what some of last year's graduates are doing this fall.

In the teaching profession we find Mary Jean Everett, who started on her master's degree this summer at Emory, Anne Booker, Marguerite Bassett, Darian Ellis beginning the school year at Porterdale. Lucia Rooney is "school marm" in Decatur, while Lena Bowers and Martha Hudson are holding sessions in Blue Ridge. Other products of our education department are Ruth Adams and Emily Cook, at Metter; Mary Ellen Platt and Winifred Greene, at Montezuma; Nancy Ragland, Nancy and Patty Cheney, in Atlanta; Mary Zelma Gillis, Easton; Elizabeth Mayes, Jesup; Virginia Driskell, Columbus; Blanche Muldrow and Margaret Baldwin, Brunswick; Jane Hatfield, somewhere in Florida.

Helping Uncle Sam in the censorship business in Miami, is both pointed due south now. Isn't that the queerest thing ever? We'd better go to the picture—while we can.

United States War Savings Stamps are on sale at the GSCW post office now. When students go to get their mail, they are urged to spend part of their spending money to invest in freedom by buying these stamps.

Most girls can't afford to buy a bond, but buying stamps every week is the best way to save enough for a bond. Everybody knows that buying bonds is the best investment one can make.

Anne Stubbs, Spanish student from GSCW. Evelyn Lane married this summer and is living in Baltimore now. Jean Stewart acquired her MRS. degree last spring. Blanche Layton, is a private secretary for some government official in New York.

Two chemistry majors who graduated last year are Dorothy Harper, who is working for a paper corporation in Crossett Arkansas, and Sue Bretz, who is employed by the State Department of Agriculture in Atlanta. Olivia Schramm and Ellen Stalling are chemists at a defense center near Birmingham.

Faye Crowder is teaching music at Bob Jones' College in Cleveland, Tennessee.

Air Control Is Way To Victory, Seversky Declares In Vital Book

By NINA WILEY

There is no more timely recent book than Victory Through Air Power, by Major Alexander P. de Seversky. It gives a highly regarded authority's pattern of how America can win the war. The preponderant position of air power in the present war is accurately shown, all the crucial battles to date having been won through control of the air.

Key Center Begins 1942-43 Program

The GSCW Key Center of civilian morale training and information has begun its program for the year. Letters have been sent to all the co-ordinate colleges in this service area. These colleges are Georgia State Women's college, Valdosta; Norman Junior college, Norman; Abraham Baldwin, Tifton; Andrew Cuthbert; Mercer and Wesleyan, Macon; South Georgia, Douglas; Middle Georgia, Cochran; Bessie Tift, Forsyth; and GSCW and GMC, Milledgeville.

The Key Center located at this school is one of three in the state. The other two are at the University of Georgia and Emory.

The Library Information Center is now ready to lend pamphlets on World War II to schools and colleges for three week periods if the postage is paid by the recipients.

Plans have been made for a coordinate meeting for the directors of the colleges in this area. Also a co-operative radio program has been considered.

THE WORLD THIS WEEK—

This Column Is Sponsored by the International Relations Club of GSCW
By SARA TAYLOR

The people of the world hold their breath as Stalingrad desperately fight the enemy in the streets of the city. The Nazis and Russians are now fighting in private homes. It was reported that the Nazis held two rooms of a house and the other three rooms were held by Russians. What chills it gives us here in America when we try to imagine a Nazi regiment of soldiers fighting our soldiers in front of our homes! . . . .

That is the kind of war we seem to have escaped. But who can predict what will come if the lax attitude of our people continues? For this is Total War. The girls of Stalingrad realize this. Do we at GSCW?

Everywhere you hear these questions. Why don't we bomb Japan again? Why don't we concentrate a force at one point? Why do we scatter our soldiers over the world? Why not a second front in Europe? The answer to all these questions is the same. We are not ready. We are not ready with trained soldiers outfitted with the supplies and equipment necessary. We don't have enough planes, tanks, etc. Which all sounds very familiar.

In the Pacific Ocean, MacArthur's fighters attacked New Guinea, New Britain, and the northern tip of the Solomons. Our attacks in the Pacific Ocean seem comparatively small in comparison with the other battle fronts of the world. But they are of the utmost importance for the future battles of the Pacific Ocean that we will have to fight. In the Solomon Islands our Marines are holding their own. Japan has sent her fleet to recover the islands. But the Marines have landed and they intend to remain here.

Dr. Oakey Leads Bible Study Group

Dr. Rufus Oakey will conduct a Bible study group beginning next Thursday night. His lectures to the group will be based on Winifred Wygal's "The Super Adventure." Meetings will be held in the Y office. This group is a new project sponsored by the YWCA and is open to all students who wish to take it. Faye Hancock is chairman of this division of YWCA work. The meeting will be held at 7 o'clock.

Improvements Made On Campus

Among improvements that have been made on the campus this year are the repairing of the sidewalks, renovations in kitchens, dining rooms, and dormitories. The construction on the senior dining hall is progressing, but due to lack of necessary supplies, the date of completion cannot be determined as yet.

All the music machines in the dormitories have been repaired, and the students are asked to take care of them in order to keep them working, because when they get broken, there will be no new parts with which to repair them.

CAMPUS ANNOUNCEMENTS

COLONNADE MEETING

All students who are interested in working on The Colonnade this year in any capacity are urged to attend the regular staff meeting Monday afternoon at 4:30. The meeting will be held in the Colonnade office (Parks 19). It is not necessary that students have previous experience before working on the student publication.

PHYSICAL EXAMS

New students who have not completed their physical examinations should report to Parks Memorial hospital as soon as possible in order to complete it. Former students should make appointments for their examinations in the hospital office.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Students who are interested in attending the Sunday evening service at the Baptist church are asked to meet in front of Atkinson hall in order to go in a group. Meet at 7:45.

CGA CALENDARS

School calendars are now being sold in the dormitories by CGA officials. They are large (the same size as last year's) and include pictures of students and scenes of the campus.

The cost is thirty cents apiece. Sales were conducted in the freshmen dormitories this week, and will soon begin in the other dormitories.

Rec Association Entertains Freshmen

Flo Finney, vice-president of the Rec. Association, introduced Miss Grace Potts, sponsor of the Rec. Association, and the managers of intramural sports to the freshmen at a progressive party in the gym Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. The new students were taken on a tour of the Physical Education-Health building, and were given a short explanation of the care and use of the equipment. Individual games were played in small groups and refreshments were served on Terrell Court.

Campus Clubs Open New Vistas To Frosh, Transfers, Old Students

Well, New Jessie, what clubs are you going to join this year? You have quite a choice, you know. If you are partial to literature and the "art of writing" then the Spectrum—the annual, the Corinthian—the quarterly magazine, Scribblers—a literary club, and the Colonnade will be glad to have you.

Then there are the skill clubs, such as the Cotillion for dancing, Jesters for dramatics, and the Penguin for swimming, and so on.

If your mother or grandmother came to GSCW then you are eligible for the Granddaughters club. If you are from Atlanta, then you are invited to join the Atlanta club.

And if by any chance you like to argue, there's a debate club on campus. If you sing, why not go out for the Glee Clubs? Then we have Freshman and Sophomore YWCAs. No matter what department your major is in, you will find a club there. These clubs will acquaint you with the other girls and faculty members with which you have something in common, and they ought to bring you lots of pleasure. Be sure to go out for at least one club, but DON'T get the "joining urge." A dead membership in each club will mean nothing, whereas an active membership in one or two will bring lots of satisfaction as well as pleasure.

First Impressions Told By Freshmen

By ANNE LARGEN and JOYCE BAKER

When we first walked on the GSCW campus, we found ourselves surrounded by "waves" of girls. But this could not be true because the WAVE S were not coming 'till January.

We had heard of Terrell A. B. and C; but someone said A was in the middle of the "H." The windows seemed to have bars—maybe it was just the way the light was shining.

About this time we saw our baggage disappearing and hastened to catch up. Our house-mother greeted us and asked someone to take us to our room. We followed the upperclassman up three flights of stairs, down a hall, filled with trunks and girls, past innumerable rows of identical cubby holes to our own little carbon copy. Frankly, "Home was never like this!"

In the midst of our confusion a whistle blew. Where to go and what to do was just another big mystery. Immediately, however, we heard a stampede rushing down the steps. We knew there must be some food involved, and being hungry we joined them.

The Student Mixer in the auditorium was a grand idea. Later when the serenade was over and our suite mates went back to their rooms we knew GSCW was going to be everything we hoped for in college.

MORNING SERVICE AT 7:30 SATURDAY MORNING

Saturday morning at 7:30 there will be a devotional service held on the front campus as part of the ESU retreat. Elizabeth Davison, new Baptist secretary, will lead the program. All students are invited to come.

A WELCOME AND A CHALLENGE

Year after year, for fifty-two consecutive years, students, both new and old, have been welcomed to GSCW. This year is no exception to that custom. We heartily greet you, the freshman, at the beginning of your college years; and you, who have returned.

This is a changing world and because of it, we not only extend a welcome but also a challenge to you to meet these changes and more important, to help in determining them. This is a broad outlook, but in the midst of our world turmoil, we need it. We need to play our part, not because we are so strong and self-sufficient, but because it is our responsibility, privilege, even our defense.

We certainly do not recognize all of our faults, but we know of far more than we attempt to eliminate. This academic year, from the beginning, we need to analyze ourselves, discover our needs. Then with ambition and determination—and certainly this is a patriotic duty—we should grow this year, not only intellectually, but also spiritually, socially, and physically.

This is the challenge that The Colonnade staff extends to you as we welcome you to GSCW, a college that endeavors to assist you in this growth.

THE SMALLER COLONNADE

The Colonnade will be smaller this year because of prevailing war conditions. Materials, such as paper and photographic supplies; processes, such as engraving and printing have advanced considerably during recent months. In addition, advertising is more difficult to obtain.

Under such conditions, we deemed it wise to meet our budget by publishing a four page issue except on special occasions. The same amount of money, per student, from the student activities fee is allowed for The Colonnade this year as last year. However, the enrollment is less and prices are higher.

By concentrating our efforts on a four page paper it will be our earnest endeavor to improve the publication so that it will be a greater force in the life of the college.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

"Democracy, we think," is the best possible soil in which to cultivate human freedom, but that is not necessarily so. All that we can years which will follow the conclusion of the do, all that we should attempt, in the fateful foster a wholesome economic order; to elevate war, is to help create an era of tranquility; to living standards and reduce want and privation; to promote the spread of education and understanding; to rebuild, with all of the wisdom we can command, a fabric of international law, and to compel its observance, by force if necessary. Given this, the peoples of the world must first develop and then maintain by their own efforts the freedoms they would enjoy."—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox cautions against the desire to force American way on other nations.

WIT'S END

By JEWELL WILLIE

To the class of '46, we dedicate this column with all the respect due them.

How much respect is due the freshman class? One thing is evident in the beginning: the "baby class" has never been respected enough. Since the dawn of the first school day, freshmen have been the dupes of every ruse that it is possible to concoct to make them appear ridiculous. To put it mildly, they've been picked on, been literally compelled to make beds, polish shoes, sweep floors, and perform many less comfortable tasks.

Freshmen are expected to amuse sophomores, juniors, and seniors, but they are robbed of the respect usually accorded first-rate entertainers, because they are freshmen.... Freshmen are called a horticultural green; yet they are required to exhibit the finesse of a side-show Barker.... Well-behaved frosh must, according to enthusiastic upperclassmen, participate in every extra-curricular activity on campus while delighting their instructors with daily perfect recitations.... Freshmen are theoretically ignorant, however, they are called upon to become bottomless wells of information upon inconsequential (?) subjects—such as how to manage wirey locks and what shade of lip-stick is the current vogue.... They must show no apparent interest in the all-important male element; nevertheless, every member of the class is expected to have at least one young gentleman on her beaux-string before she goes home for the Christmas holidays....

Yes, it's a trying year—a year which might be correctly termed the Dark Age of a college career. Yet, freshmen never complain. They seem to enjoy their hectic existence. Therein lies their strength; their claim to RESPECT.

FIRST FLASHES OF

FRESHMAN FASHIONS

By ANN LARGEN

FRIVOLOUS—That's exactly the mood in which RUTH FARMER finds herself when she wears that natural corduroy dress with the unusual bow-pockets and a single gilt button fastening the yoke.

RESTFUL—Was there ever anything more restful than BETTY BRINSON ANDERSON'S rose chenille house coat? It's a comfortable wrap-around style tied with matching sash. Pure comfort! It can't be beat.

EASY on the eyes. That's probably what MILDRED WALLACE thought when she bought her brown and white striped seersucker dress. No one would ever close more than one eye when looking at it's clean white pique collar or adorable gathered skirt with slide pockets, buttoned, of all things to a fitted bodice.

SOPHISTICATED—Who says no Frosh is sophisticated? ELLEN DONALD looks the last word in her black formal. Ellen cleverly combined black chiffon with lace, all of which is suspended by a double row of rhinestones.... Well, who could ask for more?

HANDSOME—That's the word for BURMA SMITH'S green linen suit. It has a pleated skirt and a fitted finger-tip jacket. It's round neck-line and lapels are bound in yellow grosgrain ribbon.

MODERN—'Twas a time when only Grandpa thought shorts were modern. Now all of this has been revised for what could be more modern than JOYCE BAKER in her red and white play suit. Pin stripes are interestingly arranged to emphasize the general charm of the outfit. The top is a petite blouse with puffed sleeves trimmed by red bows. Someone asked her why she didn't buy the two inches needed to make it meet the skirt. The said skirt, by the way, is gathered on a widish band and features draw string pockets. The shorts have pleats front and back.

ALL-AROUND—Everybody wants a suit that's good for everything. ANN JONES has the answer to that dream. It's a yellow wool jersey suit with a pleated skirt and a white Peter Pan collar. It's good for anything from spectator sports to shopping, from Sunday schools to classes, from dates to—well who wants to go from dates?

NEAT—PENELOPE NESBIT'S brother, who, by the way, was president of the Student Political League at Georgia Tech (Don't mob her, girls.) must have okeyed that neat suit she's sporting. Made of rabbit's hair wool; shepherd checked with a matching plaid binding around it's military neck-line and lapels. By the way, that original skirt with the inverted pleats all the way around exactly matches the plaid binding on the jacket.

WAVES AT GSCW

As one of the four schools in the United States selected to train the WAVES, GSCW has taken a long step forward in gaining national recognition. This is the only southern school selected as such a training site. The others are Smith College, the University of Indiana, and the University of Wisconsin.

The selection of GSCW as a WAVE training center is a definite advance for the college, but the college had to pass the strict inspection of the Navy before it could be accepted as a WAVE training school. We gratefully acknowledge the interest and efforts of Congressman Carl Vinson in determining the location of the southern school. President Wells and other GSCW college officials are to be commended for their participation in promoting this program on our campus.

All changes that will be necessary to accommodate the new group cannot be accurately determined now, but we should be happy to share our campus in helping in the war program. This is an important contribution to the war effort by which our college, and we, as a part of the college, will benefit.

POST OFFICE BOXES A MUST!

All students are required to rent mail boxes in the college post office, a change effective this quarter. Heretofore, some students have rented boxes at the city post office; others received mail from the general delivery.

We believe that the new system will be more satisfactory, although students will not be able to choose the channel through which their mail will come. This may cause some minor inconveniences for a few students; a slight outlay of cash for some others. But we believe students, collectively speaking, will benefit from the new requirement. Certainly the delivery of campus mail will be more satisfactory.

CONSERVATION IN WARTIME

Daily, we use countless materials that are vital to our war program. Many of these materials can not be replaced. If we are to meet this problem, we must have an intellectual foresight into the situation. A little effort and consideration now will postpone, if not prevent, a serious situation later.

Don't neglect those irons, because the college will be unable to replace them. Unless better care is taken of the juke boxes, such music at GSCW must be out for the duration.

This is war but we can help by conserving.

Students in Eastern and Midwestern colleges are not going to have as warm rooms as in the piping times of peace, but they need not freeze.

Reason: The East normally consumes 1,500,000 barrel of oil a day. Submarines and the need for tankers in our overseas service has cut the supply by water to almost nothing. Overland facilities are taxed and the Midwest must share its tank cars and other facilities. As a consequence, use of all fuel in those regions must be kept at a minimum.

Two-color shoes are out for the duration. WPB has banned the production of fancy footwear to save leather. At the same time it has reduced the variety of styles and cut the number of colors to six: black, white, turtan, army russet, Town Brown and Blue. Athletes' shoes, incidentally, will be made as usual.

Meatless and fishless Wednesdays in Washington's 52 government cafeterias are expected to save six tons of the two products weekly.

China in her war with Japan has lost, in killed and wounded, about as many soldiers as the total population of Texas.
